Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle! SU065310

Cooking Corner

Dear Cooks,

Well, after 32 years of sharing recipes with you all, it is time for me to say goodbye. I have enjoyed your letters, comments and recipes! There will be a new cook in the Kapp kitchen (so to speak) so I hope you will continue to look for, read the column and share your recipes. Below you will find some festive punch recipes for holiday entertaining. If you have a chance to try one of them, lift a glass and accept a toast from me to you, for the years of pleasure in sharing tasty recipes with you! Have a Blessed Christmas and a healthy and happy New Year.

12/20/23 Cheers! Elaine

Lime Wedges (optional)

In a punch bowl, mix juice and lemonade concentrate. Stir in the soda; top with raspberries. Serve over ice. If desired, garnish glasses with lime wedges. Makes 14 servings (3/4 cup each).

Santa's Christmas Punch

1 Bottle (2 liters) Lemon-Lime Soda
1 Bottle (64 oz.) Cranberry Juice Blend
1 Cup Sugar
1 Can Frozen Lemonade Concentrate (thawed)
1 Can Frozen Orange Juice Concentrate (thawed)
Ice Cubes
Water (for amount see directions)
Garnishes: Lemon Slices, Cranberries, Fresh Rosemary Sprigs

Combine the soda and the cranberry blend. Add the sugar and stir vigorously until combined and the sugar is dissolved. Add the thawed concentrates, stir again. If you desire a strong punch you can leave it as is and just add ice. If you wish to dilute it a bit, add up to 3 cups of water (or to your taste). Remember adding ice will further dilute the punch, so be careful. Add the garnishes if desired. If using the lemon do not forget to wash it well. Serves about 16.

PA residents warned of scam

Pennsylvania Treasurer Stacy Garrity is warning residents of a new scam involving false promises of a state grant and fraudulent requests to pay taxes using gift cards.

In this scam, unsuspecting residents receive a call, an email and/or a letter claiming to be from the Pennsylvania Treasury Department or the Federal Reserve Bank, fraudulently indicating the recipient will be awarded grant money but first must pay taxes. In at least one case, the recipient was told to make the supposed tax payments with gift cards.

Treasury does not announce grant awards, and it does not collect taxes. In addition, Treasury will never request a payment be made with a gift card, and neither will any other legitimate government agency.

In one case, an elderly Indiana County resident was initially contacted by telephone and told he would receive a $25,500 grant from the state but had to pay thousands of dollars in taxes first, using gift cards. He purchased the cards, called the scammer back and provided the information needed to access the gift cards. This happened multiple times.

Treasury has provided information about this scam to the appropriate law enforcement agencies.

Anyone who believes they have been the victim of a scam or attempted scam should immediately report it to the Federal Trade Commission, the Pennsylvania Office of Attorney General and their local law enforcement agency.

If you or anyone you know has received suspicious correspondence claiming to be from the Pennsylvania Treasury Department, please contact Treasury here, or by calling 717-787-2465.

HOLIDAY DRINKS

Give the Gift of Spirits

The swirl of holiday parties is in full swing and you find yourself without a gift to take to the next soiree.

Never fear, the liquor store is near. Alcohol is generally a welcome gift to any holiday party, unless you know the host is on the wagon or if it's hosted at a venue that frowns on alcohol. But the aisles are brimming with choices and time is of the essence. Here's what to do.

Go Seasonal

Many beer, wine and liquor companies will bring out special, festive seasonal products just for the holiday season. You want to start there. Next, consider that the cooler temperatures outside lend themselves nicely to bolder flavors in the glass, so move toward your fortified wines, spirits and big, bold reds.

Next, avoid the sales. You want quality, not quantity, unless you're on your way to a frat party. Then, by all means, look for the BOGO deals. If you're like most of us, go for affordable but not cheap and look for unique, seasonal blends, bottles and labels that your hosts (not the guests!) will enjoy.

Presenting the Present

What's on the outside matters as much as on the inside. Fortunately, this time of year, most quality liquor stores (and you really should be in a quality liquor store for this errand, not the local convenience store) have specialty gift bags and boxes designed to hold bottles. You should fill it with something new to your host; ask the staff for something that maybe just came out.

Coming Up Short?

If your gift bag still feels light, look for accessories and accompaniments to give it more heft. Turn to the staff again and ask them what goes best. They probably have a mixer, garnish or even glassware you can add to it. Some stores will even have recipe cards (or you can make one yourself) for cocktails to try using your chosen spirit.

When All Else Fails, Go Local

Ask the staff to point you to local libations that would please your host's palette. If your holiday season is also bringing you some travel, take several small bottles of a locally made beer, wine or liquor with you to give out as gifts as you make the holiday rounds. Your hosts will sample it and think of you.

Beers to Put Under the Tree

While wine (particularly the bubbly ones) gets a lot of attention this time of year, let's not forget the humble beer. Or not so humble, when you consider these seasonal delicacies.

The holidays are too short for bad beer, so try some of these brews.

Cherries Jubleale, Deschutes Brewery, Oregon

Oregon cherries and notes of vanilla shine in this barrel-aged Super Jubel. East Kent Goldings hops and a caramel malt complete this seasonal beer, born when Deschutes founder Gary Fish said his favorite Jubelale pairing was cherries jubilee. Mind the alcohol content, though. It's 9.2% ABV. So go easy.

Revolution Brewing Fistmas, Illinois

Only available in November and December, this holiday red ale is steeped with ginger and orange peel for a ka-pow of flavor. It has notes of fresh-baked bread and caramel and a 6.5% ABV.

Breckinridge Christmas Ale, Colorado

A malty, full-bodied beer that envelops you like a warm sweater. This ale carries notes of caramel and chocolate while Chinook and Mt. Hood hops provide a kick to a clean finish. It's a dark, strong ale for a long winter's night at 7.1% ABV.

Kentucky Christmas Morning by Hardywood, Kentucky

Packaged in a short, vintage bottle, this gingerbread stout is aged in Kentucky bourbon barrels that give it the flavor of vanilla, coconut and toasted oak. Before it hits those barrels, it's filtered with locally roasted coffee beans for a morning jolt. You'll need it, too. It's 11.5% ABV.

Double Mountain Fa La La La, Oregon

The winter night is dark, but your Christmas beer doesn't have to be. Centennial hops bring a bright, evergreen taste to this crisp winter IPA. Its 7.5% ABV is stout, but the taste isn't.

Shiner Holiday Cheer, Texas

Peaches and pecans shine in this Southern seasonal. It smells of peach with hints of banana and caramel. It's moderately sweet with a caramel or graham cracker flavor, depending on who you ask.

Avery Brewing Co. Old Jubilation Ale, Colorado

It's a strong ale in more ways than one, weighing in at 8.3% ABV. A pip of hazelnut and a mocha finish wrap you in a warm winter blanket fresh from Colorado. It's available October through December in six-pack cans.

Strawberries

Strawberries are more than just a treat for the taste buds. They're also health boosters that lower the risk of heart trouble and diabetes.

Scientists at the University of Warwick in England have discovered that natural chemicals found in strawberries activate a protein called "Nrf2" that boosts antioxidant activity in the body. It also lowers blood fats and cholesterol, helping to keep the arteries clear.

Eating strawberries has previously been found to counter post-meal blood glucose and low density lipoprotein, or "bad" cholesterol and, therefore, decrease risk of diabetes and heart disease; but this is the first time that strawberry extracts have been proved to actively stimulate proteins that offer protection against disease.

And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, saying, "Where is he that is born King of the Jews? For we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him."

When they had heard the king, they departed; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts;

gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the highest, and on Earth peace, good will toward men.
